1. INTRODUCTION

The Center for the Study of Organizations and Decisions in Economics (CODE) is a research center at the Universitat Autònoma de Barcelona, created in 1995 to promote high quality research in the theory of economic decisions and organizations. Since the beginning of its activities, CODE's main goal is to provide an environment allowing for excellence in research as measured by the international standards of scientific quality.

CODE's permanent members belong to the Department of Economics at the UAB, which has pioneered in Economics Research for the last twenty years. The Department is still the natural meeting point for those activities, like undergraduate and doctoral education, for which diversity of interests and abilities are most important.

The activity report strives to be a regular publication that our colleagues look forward to be available. The present edition covers the activities performed during 2004.

In its eighth year of activities, CODE has hosted 18 visitors from all over the world for stays ranging from one month to two years and research trainees. Research activities can be grouped in five areas: Financial Economics/Macroeconomics, Industrial Organization, Mathematical Economics, Public Economics and Social Choice/Game Theory. All this research is developed through 18 research projects financed by the Spanish Ministry of Education, the Catalan Government (Generalitat de Catalunya) and the European Union. This activity has been materialized in 32 papers published in leading economic journals, 14 working papers, 9 chapters in books, and 2 books edited. Also CODE members have participated in major academic meetings, both as organizers and as participants.

All in all we hope this report reflects the commitment of CODE to build an increasingly consistent research center that can be taken as a reference point for top quality research within Europe and beyond.

4. RESEARCH PROJECTS

A brief description is given of the research projects in which the members of CODE are involved. These projects are financed by the Ministry of Education and Science through the Inter-Ministerial Commission of Science and Technology, by the Government of Catalonia and by the European Community.

Title: Market and Non Market Organizations: Design and Regulation (MNM). Marie Curie Training Site (HPMT-CT-2000-000172)

Team coordinator: Salvador Barberà

Description: Programme "Improving Human Research Potential and the Socio-economic Knowledge Base".

Title: Comissionat per a Universitats i Recerca. Generalitat de Catalunya (SGR2001-00162)

Team coordinator: Salvador Barberà

Description: Support to top quality research groups.

Title: Information and multilateral contractual relation: groups formations and negotiation with informative asymmetry (HI2001-0039)

Team coordinator: Salvador Barberà

Description: Bilateral research project Spain/Italy.

Title: Groups, networks and coalitions in collective decision-making (BEC 2002-02130)

Team coordinator: Salvador Barberà

Description: We study questions of mechanism design in contexts where it is important to take into account the characteristics of those agents which cooperate among themselves, or the existing relationships between different members of society. We use cooperative and non-cooperative game theory, as well as the theory of networks. We study different markets through which teams are formed (matching and labor markets in particular), and also collective choice mechanisms (rules of vote, methods to allocate public goods), where the groups formed by different agents have an impact on the nature and the stability of public decisions. The project will be carried out through a series of specific papers on precise topics within this general area of concern. It will emphasize theory. Yet, the team is open to cooperation involving the analysis of more applied questions, especially if they refer to the ongoing process of redefinition of the European institutions.

Title: Economic Policy and Policy Strategies

Team coordinator: Carmen Bevià

Description: In this project we would like to focus in the comprehension of incentives and restrictions of politicians when they have to implement an economic policy. In concretion, we propose three objectives: 1) to develop a model of competitive policy with endogenous formation of political parties; 2) to analyze how electoral rules and institutions affect in the design of the policy, with special attention to economic politic decisions; 3) to study the results of different electoral rules when individuals can present or retire their candidature in an strategic way, in order to change the electoral result and, finally, the policy to implement.

Title: IX Coalition Theory Workshop (CNT) (BEC2002-12461E)

Team coordinator: Carmen Bevià

Description: Support to organize the IX Coalition Theory Workshop.

Title: Real Effects of Monetary Policy (SEC2003-00306)

Team coordinator: Jordi Caballé

Description: This project intends to spell out the procedure by which monetary policy is conducted in actual economies and to describe this procedure in a stochastic dynamic general equilibrium model. Such a model will allow to study several practical issues that are useful in order to evaluate the policy of central banks like the European Central Bank, the Federal Reserve of the USA, and the monetary policies conducted by more heterodox governments which use currency printing as a source of inflationary revenues aimed at financing public spending.

The first issue will be the analysis of the effects derived from monetary shocks, defined as unexpected deviations of short-term rates and reserves from their operating targets. Secondly, we will study the effect of the rate of monetary expansion on the consumption distribution and on welfare in a context with tax evasion where inflation affects the incentives to be honest by taxpayers. Finally, we will study the relationship between monetary policy and the labor market in two particular aspects. On the one hand, we will analyze the role of occupational choice on the propagation of monetary shocks and, on the other hand, we will analyze under which conditions employment, growth rates and prices are decreasing in the interest rate, whereas real wages are increasing in the interest rate. This last analysis will be complemented with a test aimed at checking whether these conditions are empirically met by the different countries of the UE, US, Canada and Japan.

Title: Formación de grupos, organización y reparto de los beneficios de la cooperación (BEC2003-01132)

Team coordinator: Inés Macho-Stadler

Description: The aim of this project is to understand why and how groups of economic agents arise, what contracts favor group formation, and what contracts or sharing mechanisms allow for a stable collaboration and participation in the benefits thus generated. We will tackle these questions based on the tools of (cooperative and non cooperative) game theory as well as in models of industrial organization. This project considers different economic environments where group formation is a common phenomenon. Within each of them, there are different research lines where we expect to contribute with one or more publications. These research lines are related with the dynamics of group or coalition formation in general and, in particular, with the problems observed in mergers of firms, the mechanisms underlying the research joint ventures, the optimal organization of public services (such as health care), the establishment of environmental agreements, or the mechanisms favoring free trade.

Title: Convexity and divisibilities in exchange, assignment, demand and production problems (BEC2002-00642)

Team coordinator: Juan Enrique Martínez-Legaz

Description: The project focuses on some economic models in which either the presence of convexity or its absence due to indivisibilities play an important role; some of these models can be described by cooperative games. The main research topics will be:

- 1) Conditions for the monotocity of demand correspondences.
- 2) Quasiconcave production functions with decreasing returns to scale.
- 3) Assignment decentralization with indivisible goods.
- 4) Bilateral markets with search costs and incomplete information.
- 5) Walrasian equilibria in economies with asymmetric information.
- 6) Assignment problems: solutions, properties and comparative statics.
- 7) Actuarial applications of cooperative game theory.

Title: Reglas de reparto a prueba de soborno en el problema de la división (PCI Iberoamerica)

Team coordinator: Jordi Massó

Description: The division problem consists of allocating an amount of a perfectly divisible good among a group of n agents with single-peaked preferences. A rule maps preference profiles into n shares of the amount to be allocated. A rule is bribe-proof if no group of agents can compensate another agent to misrepresent his preference and, after an appropriate redistribution of their shares, each obtain a strictly preferred share. We want to characterize all bribe-proof rules as the class of efficient, strategy-proof, and weak replacement monotonic rules. In addition, we want to identify the functional form of all bribe-proof and tops-only rules.

Title: Regulation and insurance in health care markets (HP03-66)

Team coordinator: Xavier Martínez-Giralt

Description: Our project focuses on the health insurance market. Health administrations of different EU countries have liberalized this sector and have promoted competition with the view of reducing costs without diminishing the quality. This liberalization opens up a huge number of economic issues.

Title: Competition in Health Provision and Insurance (Fundación BBVA)

Team coordinator: Xavier Martínez-Giralt

Description: This project contributes to the study of the trade-off between efficiency and equity in the provision of health care in three specific areas: 1. Testing for the presence of adverse selection health markets and its effects on usage; 2. Switching costs in the market of sickness funds; 3. Regulation and competition in health care markets.

Title: Licensing of University Innovation (Fundación BBVA)

Team coordinator: David Pérez Castrillo

Description: This project would like to provide some theoretical models helping to explain the specific role Technology Transfer Offices at Universities may have in stimulating the transfer of know-how from the science base into commercial applications and the organizational issues that may increase the efficiency of the technological transfers between University and Industry.

Title: "Barcelona Jocs" (2003 XT-00055)

Team coordinator: Clara Ponsatí

Description: Series of seminars jointly organized by Institut d'Anàlisi Econòmica –C.S.I.C. (coordinator), U.B. U.A.B, U.P.F, U.P.C. U.d.G.

Title: "Polarization and Conflict" (CIT2-CT-2004-506084)

Local responsible: Clara Ponsatí

Description: Network financed by the European Commission. Members included: IAE-CSIC, LSE, U. Bocconi, U. Kosntanz, U. Tel Aviv, U. Toulouse I, U. Utrech, PRIO- Oslo.

Title: Strategies for UE Leadership in Environmental Negotiations (P.Courtois HPMF-CT-2002-01641)

Team coordinator: Xavier Martínez-Giralt

Description: The Bonn Agreement is mainly the result of an EU leadership. Dissuasion and compromise explain coordination. This project aims at providing a model combining IAM and game theory to highlight EU potentials to exert influences on other regions.

Title: Designing institutions robust to individual biases (M. Casari HPMF-CT-2001-01292)

Team coordinator: Inés Macho Stadler

Description: The aim of this project is to characterize the nature of “debiasing” institutions in reference to intertemporal decisions.

Title: Distinció de la Generalitat for young researchers (DPRJ 2001-04)

Team coordinator: David Pérez-Castrillo

Description: Support to young Catalan researchers.

Title: The Organizations: Optimal auditing policies and fiscal accomplished (Instituto de Estudios Fiscales-UAB)

Team coordinator: Inés Macho-Stadler

Description: In this project we analyze the optimal auditing policies to prevent and detect tax evasion.
